That series would have succeeded if she had been a member of the House of Commons, sponsored by a major company, and carried daily. But Mrs. Harper's series did not get out after had expired.

Some ten years ago she found a model to join her father and brother, who were both in the business of the Revere House in Harper. She probably was a little girl in a pink tulle dress, for she seems to be in high school now. She is not a model, but anything with a gun, she can kill. So she turned to "shootin'."

Now this unique hobby-proposition has come to be a year-around job. She has published one book, "What's the Difference Between a Gun and a Girl?"

Wants Channel Tunnel

Plans For Century Old Scheme Being Revived In France

In June the Foreign Affairs Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies will consider a resolution proposing the construction of two full-sized railway tunnels and a road tunnel.

The rail tunnels would be 32 miles long including 20 miles under the water.

The scheme would take five years to complete and would cost £22,000,000. First a pilot tunnel would have to be built.

Public opinion in France opposes the cabinet and M., as expected, the Chamber passes the resolution, the French Government will probably ask the British Government's approval and help.

Baron Kettle d'Erlanger, 73-year-old chairman of the Channel Tunnel Co. Ltd., is the tunnel's staunchest advocate in England.

He stood on the cliff top at Dover and looked down on the sealed entrance where trial shafts for a tunnel to France were sunk in 1881 by engineers.

Their work was stopped after they had built part of a pilot tunnel more than a mile long. At the same time a 2,000-yard approach was built at Chalais.

"Military opinion in France," Baron d'Erlanger said, "is in favor of the tunnel. The old idea in England that a Continental country could use it for a sudden invasion with masses of troops is ridiculous."

Brothers and Broome Wealthy
Twin brothers, born in humble circumstances in Woodstock, M. Garfield Harrington, and H. Gladstone Harrington, now of Maryville, N.D., own one of the largest cattle brokerage businesses in the Middle West, and have prospered so well that they write cheques every year for approximately $3,000,000. The two Harrington boys early came to know the value of toil and hard work in life. Their father died when they were small boys, and together with their mother and sisters they moved to Erie, North Dakota. Later, on a small farm near the village of Pillsbury, the two brothers proved their worth as skilful farmers, and reflected the hard-headed sense of their Scottish-English ancestors.

To their way of thinking there was money in the cattle business, but mighty little in plain farming; there-

Death Rays Reach Far

Director of the Mount Wilson Observatory, Pasadena, California, says that the picture of the heavens as it now appears was completed by the end of ceremonies dedicating the new 25-inch telescope at the Mount Wilson Observatory, Pasadena, California, last night.

And of constellations, astronomy does not detect such things as rays millions of miles long. Rays where stars travel in and out of the sun is a common occurrence. Rays of light from stars near the earth, and light does not come from stars. New galactic map covers whole sky not just beyond the reach of the Milky Way. It is especially among the stars of the Milky Way. It is added addition to the map, since in the last few weeks by the end of the world's second largest. It is surprisingly vast round the sun. It is a vast galaxy. This was reported by Dr. Otto Struve, director of the new observatory.

lighter, he said, makes up nearly 90 percent of this incredibly bright light. The brightness is a glow of light not like you would see in a fire. Bright rays give off by the sun, very much like the bright rays of a searchlight. The bright rays are true "death rays" reach out for about 200 light years. The distance light will travel in one year is 186,000 miles. The distance, within which they can be detectable disturbances in the air and other gases in space. The extremely high energy of the bright rays is a stream of charged particles. Some scientists claim that stars travel to and fro along some of the sky, in large numbers. The bright rays of the bright suns are clouds of dust probably well sprinkled with chunks of matter. The size of the bright rays is about the size of the sun. These rays are said to be the same size as the sun. The bright rays are the continent of stars.

Points To Definite Advantages En-

I have a son now six years old, and I know when he grows up that he will decide to be a farmer. We also have three daughters, and we hope that when they grow up they will marry farmers. It is not because I think farmers and farm women in the future are going to become rich and have an easy life, although I look for many Americans to do just that.

I want you to go back to the farm and live in what is called an hereditary home in which his sisters can return in time of depression, should they marry (I say men because

The love of money has been said to be the root of all evil. It is true that money can be a source of temptation and corruption. However, it can also be a tool for good. Money can be used to help the poor, to support education, and to create jobs. The key is to use money wisely and to keep it in perspective. Money is not the end goal, but a means to an end. It is important to remember that money cannot buy happiness or love. True happiness and love come from within. Money can only provide a temporary sense of satisfaction. It is important to focus on the things that truly matter in life, such as family, friends, and personal growth. Money is a double-edged sword. It can be used for good or evil. It is up to us to decide how we use it.

Two records be the root of all evil, but we are inclined to think that the love of power may have something to do with the evil with which the world is presently afflicted.

A sticker to detail discovered the United-States Congress has appropriated $250,000 to send an expedition to the Antarctic, but didn't say anything specifically about getting it back. All sorts of dire prospects can be summed up if the money doesn't last for the round trip.

Forest Destruction

Writing in the 1939 "Canada Year Book" on noxious forest insects and their control, J. J. de Geyre, Chief, Forest Insect Investigations, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in one part of his article says: "When the war would make no lighter the load of affliction for the multitudes who suffer in normal times. The services to take care of them must be maintained and strengthened. With the dislocation of family life, the maintenance of the forest insect control service is a task of the first importance."

therefore we refer to insects as pests or destructive enemies of the forest, we speak in terms of human relationships and we forget that, more than often, man himself is the prime mover in the calamities which are visited upon him. One hazard problem would arise with others. The efficient welfare organizations that have grown up in Canada will be a bulwark in the present struggle, said Hon. Aulay Morrison.

"We are told that every human re-edge of insect ecology is still very imperfect and it would be absurd to pretend that all the causal relationships underlying the rise and fall of any one insect outbreak can be determined.

man's offenses may be readily classified. In planning measures of prevention and control, our first concern must be the regulation of man's activities and the correction of his mistakes. In some cases, appropriate

MANIFESTO AND CONSTITUTION UNITED FARMERS OF CANADA (Alberta Section)

MANIFESTO

In view of the economic conditions under which we farmers are laboring, and these conditions promise to become still more severe, we realize that as an unorganized vocational group we are helpless to better our conditions. We deem it absolutely necessary to form a farmers' non-political union, in which all farmers interested in bettering their economic conditions are eligible to join.

Our lead is warning not, machinery wear-out, while our debt is steadily increasing because of higher prices received for our products. The time is long overdue for practical co-operative action on the part of the farmers of Alberta.

The idea is to form a powerful farmers' union in Alberta, the province which has some 17,000 farmers and who is the only province in Canada with the combined farm and stock raising industry. For the farmers of Saskatchewan and Alberta, the idea is to form a powerful farmers' union in Alberta, the province which has some 17,000 farmers and who is the only province in Canada with the combined farm and stock raising industry.

For Young Farm Folks...

The pioneer farmers of the Prairie Provinces were mostly men of energy, courage and perspective. They soon discovered that an Oligarchy of Wealth was being built up in the grain handling and selling business. Conditions became intolerable to freedom-loving people.

The pioneers offset the encroaching money control by building their own co-operative organizations. It took much of their time, their meagre savings and vast energy to accomplish the task. But their persistence was unshakable.

Huge grain organizations from the United States, with vast assets of wealth behind them, invaded Western Canada. Many were formed in Canada, buttressed by millions of dollars. But the Pioneer Co-operators met them all - dauntless and unfraid.

Recently psychologists at University made a study of over a period of 30 days to test how much chewing serves as relaxation. Each subject concerned was studied while not chewing, accompanying ordinary chewing, and while allowing a flavor to melt in the mouth. It was necessary first of all to make a measurement of tension. This was done by checking one of the person's breathing during a working day, during restful movements, these subjects it was found that as measured by a motion picture analysis, the movements were about 10 per cent. during the studies were also made. It was whether indulgence in tobacco had any relation to the fatigue produced increased muscle tension. When people work over-work and over-eat of tea and coffee seem to increase tension. On the other hand, it was found in these studies that the fatigue tended to decrease tension. The amount of muscular effort was hardly sufficient to produce fatigue.

A study was also made to determine whether chewing during work

Colored Tags Indicate Striverams

Under the direction of the Ministry of Health, London hospitals have provided casually clearing staff who air-rail "striverams" be labelled with baggage tags, color or colors of which will identify people would read it as the treatment necessary. This time-saving plan proved to be a double-edged sword as the tags had to be as unambiguous as possible after the arrival of the train at the "reception hall" clearing station. The tags are still attached on the hanks of these dead ends.

A red tag means an emergency operation, a green tag with a circle in the centre calls for a change of minor character, a pink tag with a circle in the centre means that the case is to be disputed directly in a ward, a yellow tag a diagonal cross in red books is provided for an "admission" and a blue tag calls for reunification.

Where a patient requires both resuscitation and an emergency operation, two tags are used, a blue one and a red one.

Strict instructions are given to the tags shall be used to ensure the safety of the patient's body. To attach them to the scribe or the patient's clothing would be to risk exposure of tag and patient.

The article took a couple of columns insofar as I wondered, as I read it, how many people in the District the paper circulates in would realize that it cost that Editor money to run the article. He first had to compose it; then a typeset man to whom he must pay wages had to set it up; then a printer had to print it and arrange it in its proper place. Even before that, the printer had to be made in the country.

And he could save money by cutting out that sort of free material altogether and making his paper smaller—just large enough for important news and whatever advertising space he could sell. But editors don't think money is everything. They have a service to perform, and they do so willingly. Once in awhile subscribers realize that, and they call at his office and tell him so—

Police Dogs Are Becoming Important In The Work Of Finding Lost Persons

Police Becoming The Work Lost Persons

A mechanized Royal Canadian Mounted Police force gradually is taking its dependence on horses but used police dogs are becoming increasingly important.

The R.C.M.P. report for the year ended last March 31 says: "It is felt that the use of horses in the use of dogs, firearms, water and more dogs will be made for their services, allowing examples of other police forces. It is certain that this increase will make it necessary to further purchase and intensify our training."

The Mounties' first dog was "Miggy," purchased and trained at Calgary in 1933, and he proved

The report said there were 15 dogs in the force at various times. Prisoners to assist in hunting for lost persons and criminals. The dog training depot will be moved to Regina where it is planned eventually to maintain the main training and puppy breeding kennel.

"Dale" is no longer with the force. He retired in the fall of 1938. He was now known as "Dale" and "Dale's" son, "Chuck Lee", is quartered in the Regina barracks.

"The expenditure incurred and the time spent in purchasing and training dogs and training dog masters was, even at this early stage, been justified absolutely. It was a definite step in the right direction to create the type of a life guard and this Latest figures in the report show there were only 151 homes at March 31, a decrease of 31 from the previous year. The force had 497 passenger cars, 19 motor trucks, 16 motorcycles and four aeroplanes as well as 28 cruiser and patrol boats.

He counts his days of freedom on the Swiss mountains. Coronations and trials will be 30-40 years hence. The boy's father, King Prajodhok, died in 1934. On March 7, 1934, with the abdication of his uncle, King Prajodhok, a regency of three princes was installed for King Ananda until he comes of age. Events that swept King Ananda onto the throne still are changing his country. Prajodhok was ousted in the heat of a controversy over the King's powers. In 1935, the regency was dissolved and the young King, King Ananda, the King left office in 1935. On March 2, 1935, Ananda stood before the people in time. By special ruling, the boy was allowed to continue his schooling as he wished. A formal ceremony to see his King officially named "Arbiter of the Eds and the Law of the Tide," and known as

Many New Words

Being Added To English Language
As Result Of War

This war, like the last, is going to add a number of words to the English language. Recently Mr. Churchill, greatly daring, pronounced, in the British House of Commons, the mystic word "Asdic," hitherto whispered in naval circles. The word is the Navy's name for the newest anti-submarine device. The word seems completely meaningless, but it was formed, like Ascar, from the initials of the inventor, Mr. Asdic. The device was invented by a body with the nervous name of the Anti-Submarine Defector Indicator Committee, and, as is the custom in the Navy, this Committee was very commonly known and spoken of by its initials only. Hence, the Asdic. A new name-sweeping gear is called trawler in which the new invention was first tested. After this, "Navcert" is easy.—Irish Independent, Dublin.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE ACQUISITION ORDER IMPORTANT NOTICE

As announced by the Minister of Finance, the Foreign Exchange Acquisition Order, 1941, has been amended by Order-in-Council under the authority of the War Measures Act.

Unless exempted by the Order, every resident of Canada who, on May 14, 1942, has any foreign currency (in its possession, ownership or control) whether in Canada or outside Canada, is required forthwith to sell such foreign currency to an Authorized Dealer (i.e., a branch of a chartered bank) for payment in Canadian dollars at the official buying rate of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

"Foreign currency," for the purposes of the Order, means any currency (excluding coins) other than Canadian currency and includes bank notes, postal notes, money orders, cheques, travellers' cheques, prepaid letters of credit, bank drafts and other financial instruments payable in or to the order of the holder, and also includes any instrument or document of title to any foreign currency which is a right to obtain payment by reason of a deposit, order or balance of any kind or with a bank, savings bank, trust company, loan company, stockbroker, investment dealer or other similar intermediary.

The Order does not require the sale of any foreign securities.

The Order does not affect any foreign currency, deposit or securities of any non-resident of Canada and for greater certainty the Order expressly declares that a non-resident visiting Canada for business or pleasure for a period or periods not exceeding six months in the year continues to be a non-resident for the purposes of the Order unless such person enters or has entered Canada with the intention of becoming a permanent resident.

No resident is required to sell any foreign currency if he satisfies the Foreign Exchange Control Board he holds such foreign currency on May 14, 1942, solely as trustee or agent for a non-resident and that the non-resident's interest therein had not been transferred from a resident since September 12th, 1939, except in a manner approved by the Board.

Under certain conditions stipulated in Section 1 (b) of the Order, a resident who is a Canadian citizen may be granted exemption, but only after application for exemption is approved by the Board.

No life insurance company incorporated in Canada is required by the Order to sell any foreign currency which it needs for the purpose of carrying out its business.

Further privileges may be obtained from branches of chartered banks. Any resident who has any foreign currency in his possession, ownership or control on May 14, 1942, regardless of a resident, should consult his bank at once in order to ascertain the extent to which he is affected by the Order.

FIELD SERVICE

Helps win the day

With all the anxious waiting and waiting that precedes the sowing of a crop, the harvest field must be secured with "Bible" seed.

And once on, speed is the essence of success—no delay may be costly to the farmer.

Heavy rains in down and tangled conditions give rise to problems in harvesting methods and equipment operation. These excessive delays on much worn parts of old, reliable machines.

It is then that the former perspective and the value of farm machine service is rendered by Massey-Harris.

Competent men with experience in field problems and service that takes years to acquire, and a system that provides for the ready availability of parts for any of its machines, no matter how old, so as to avoid costly delays, are what have earned for Massey-Harris the worldwide reputation which it has long enjoyed.

Modification Necessary

The announcement by the federal government of its decision to count all contributions towards the cost of direct relief as of March 31 of this year and not only as a temporary expedient, but as a permanent principle of the private provision.

It had been the starting assumption of Hon. Mr. McLaughlin, Minister of Labor, was a feeling of consternation on the part of all those who were not well acquainted with the yet unexplained unemployment insurance act, and the government's decision to count all contributions towards the cost of direct relief as of March 31 of this year and not only as a temporary expedient, but as a permanent principle of the private provision.

In the first place it should be noted that the decision is based on a false premise, of the limit on the amount of contributions that can be counted on the assumption that "unemployment is down in the point where there is only negligible unemployment and the unemployment insurance act is in the main."

In the case of this collection Mr. McLaughlin's decision is shown that out of 250,000 persons on direct relief in October only 25,000 were employed or partly employed with the limitation that the balance of the total had under further substantial reduction had official figures were not available.

As to the private provision as concerned it is well known that in October while having operations are underway, or while it continues to be the case that the unemployment insurance act is in the main, the unemployment reaches its peak towards the resumption of agricultural operations in the spring. That has been true throughout the depression decade and it is the situation, as percent of provincial and municipal agencies at the current time apply demonstrative.

IT'S TIME TO TRY BIG BEN

THAT'S MY CHEW

Can't Happen Here?

If Britain were crushed and Canada conquered by Hitler's hordes of ruthless ruffians, would it mean to the people of this country? That is a question which is pertinently posed and one which is deserving of some thoughtful consideration if Canadians wish to remain masters in their own homes and captives of their minds.

The Canadian statesman is guiding with and mulling all the resources of men, materials and money to fight for what? To try to turn the people of this country are making weapons and being called upon to make still greater sacrifices to prevent having Canada taken over by Hitler's "more order" and "more discipline" to continue to enjoy the Canada of today.

And what is this "new order" which Hitler seeks to thrust upon the people of Europe and, if we have not been so stupid as to turn the people of this country, of this Canada, into a nation of slaves? What would it mean to the people of Canada, if they were forced to live under the black shadow of "new order"?

What it means is—

For the manufacturer, the retailer and the businessman, it would mean the acquisition of their businesses. They might be allowed to continue to operate, some of them, but they would have to make or buy what they were told to make or buy and in the question and at the price determined by their master. They would be told what to produce and how much to produce and at what price. Under national socialism, as interpreted by Hitler and his minions, the use of capital, the right to appoint or contract, methods of operation, were to be paid and even the disposition of such major property as might be permitted, would be determined by the state. All capital would be subject to the direction of the state and we would be the business man who failed to bow to Hitlerian decree and die.

For the farmer it would mean land, land and slaves. He would be told to grow what was needed for his master and he would be left with no more than sufficient to maintain himself and his family at the lowest possible subsistence level. If he refused to do this, his holdings they would confiscate them and turn the family over to the master of the house. The farmer would be told to produce for his master and he would be left with no more than sufficient to maintain himself and his family at the lowest possible subsistence level. If he refused to do this, his holdings they would confiscate them and turn the family over to the master of the house. The farmer would be told to produce for his master and he would be left with no more than sufficient to maintain himself and his family at the lowest possible subsistence level. If he refused to do this, his holdings they would confiscate them and turn the family over to the master of the house.

For the worker and the laborer, it would mean the abolition of the right to ask his services in the best available market, loss of the right to improve his earning power or his working conditions and the right to strike. He would be told to work for his master and he would be left with no more than sufficient to maintain himself and his family at the lowest possible subsistence level. If he refused to do this, his holdings they would confiscate them and turn the family over to the master of the house. The worker would be told to work for his master and he would be left with no more than sufficient to maintain himself and his family at the lowest possible subsistence level. If he refused to do this, his holdings they would confiscate them and turn the family over to the master of the house.

These are the things that would happen in England and later in Hitler ruled the land. The State would be supreme, the individual a cipher and a slave. Free men and regulations there would be no appeal and the reward for opposition or non-alignment would be the internment camp or the torture chamber and perhaps even death.

A Supreme Court Decision

Truly a black outline for a frightening picture, for a nation who after all have been accustomed to doing pretty much as they liked, so much as their actions are not injurious to the community at large.

Fortunately, there are indications that the people of this country are becoming more and more conscious of the peril to which they are exposed by the realization that the only way to avoid this fate is to stand up for man, woman and child protection with a growing awareness that victory must be won even at the cost of the lives of the men.

The growing sense of responsibility and the growing contribution to the war effort with the following declaration:

"When millions of men are sent over there to their country, knowing that some will pay with their lives, others will be maimed for life, it is a waste of life to see them sent there without the interest-free loan from the government which not only helps the enlisted man, but also helps our country."

When every Canadian adopts the viewpoint that his utmost contribution, whatever it is in the form of a loan to the government, payment of taxes, gifts to war charities, in cash or in kind, to the service of his country, it will be appropriate to say, "It can't happen here."

The Fireless Locomotive

And Easily Operated Hot Water Locomotion

Fireless steam locomotive is a simple machine. It carries a lot of hot water which supplies to a conventional engine. No oil, no fuel, no boiler tubes are red. The tank is charged with water from a power-plum boiler and several hours of normal operation before recharging is necessary. The engine, easily operated by man, is clean and quiet. For applications it possesses definite stages of economy and safety. The steam locomotive with a tank of water.

For example, the fireless locomotive has lower first cost; less loss in repairs and upkeep;

possible greater economy of which is burned in a stationary plant, and has no fire hazard in flammable atmosphere. While so, it wastes much less energy does a free engine. Limitations use of it are the necessity for a steam boiler and the fact body rather short heads may be taken between trips to the boiler. Industrial applications are freight mining at industrial plants and haulage in mines.—Technology w.

"Race" Is Not "Nationality"
According to a reciprocal "Canadian" country law, the origin of the "Canadian" race is really meaningless. What is actually recorded under "Race" is the nationality of the person or of any of his ancestors.

Some thousands of western Poles are descended from Scotch settlers in 17th century Canada. Some Scotch immigrants were settled in the Ukraine have descendants who speak Ukrainian and are Ukrainians in every respect. Some Scotch immigrants to the Ukraine were probably a very mixed lot ethnically, when they assumed a different nationality in the Ukraine. The Scotch element back in (a mere matter of five centuries) back of us has over a million hypothetical ancestors, and it is not beyond the realm of possibility that the result has been continued racial diversity today, rather than a common type in any national group.

It would indeed be an advantage if the word "race" could be eliminated from all political and social discussions. The word used nowadays, it usually embodies an ignorance of the nature of personal or group identity, and is a source of confusion and misunderstanding. There is no Canadian race and there probably never will be one—but as a nation the people of Canada are most decidedly "Canadians."

Red Cross Sends 72,000 Christmas Boxes To Prisoners in Enemy Countries

As early as August, 72,000 Christmas boxes began their trek from the Red Cross packing centre in London to Britain's 70,000 men in the prison camps of Germany. The extra 3,000 parcels are an insurance that every-

In each box was a Christmas pudding, a double ration of chocolate, chocolate biscuits, rye biscuits, jam, margarine, roast pork and stuffing, a tin of steak and tomato, condensed milk, four ounces of sugar, two ounces of tea and a Christmas cake. 200,000 cigarettes went off at the same time in separate packages of 100—a double ration for each man. Old Methods Employed

Makers of Gold Leaf Now Produce A Gossamer Gold

London is now sending out many quarters of the globe a gossamer gold that is an improvement on the ancient gold leaf. Craftsmen make the leaf one-thousandth of an inch in thickness. Twenty years ago the world's biggest makers of gold leaf began research work to produce a leaf which would be more even, using an right-pound hammer. The marble block the workers beat the leaf as frail as gossamer. The ancient methods are still employed in gold-leaf used by sign and interior decorators.

the cost of living during the war has increased. The cost of living is about 50 per cent higher. It has been argued that it should be taken to halt this increase.

It is expected to happen if the currency is devalued. It would quickly tend to increase and would result in severe hardship for those of small means. Furthermore, it would deflate in value, and a salary in the past have never kept pace for the large class of people in Canada, their obligations in normal times, and the inevitable and unbearable hardship. It is to be a bidding up of prices, and the result is that the man who has the means to buy who can secure the meat, good clothing, and the best housing, and the man who has no means or less degree as a consequence of the means where earnings would fall, would secure a just quota for their own countries and in other times as well, and has been stated so often, the

Britain's Smokers Will Be Treated Lighter Invented By Girl

Because of the shortage of materials, millions of persons throughout the world are lighting their cigarettes and pipes with standard lighters made of plastic material. The inventor of Diana Berry, a 21-year-old girl, the design has been approved by Britain's tobacco controller, board of trade and the British standard institute. It will cost the public about $1.00 and manufacturers are prepared to make 4,000,000 for a start.

The use of plastics for a lighter—only the final wheel is metal—provides another example of the value of these materials at a time when metals of all kinds are rare. Made from raw materials of which there are unlimited supplies

Results Are Encouraging

Newest Canadian-Produced Tractor Were Given HIGH Tests

Experts of armed war service in Canadian army have been put to the newest and biggest of Canadian produced tanks through its performance.

Although its weight about 10 tons, it is in the medium class observers are calling it "Conquest heavy." It is bigger, faster, more heavily armed than the Vietnam medians now being produced in quantity.

Because of its mobility and with its 10 km to 100 km testing in Ram, it is tracked by others such as the French tank, the Soviet American M3 tank now being supplied by the United States to British forces in England and Africa. Ram has a cast hull, powerful rocket type engine, and uses a high-octane fuel.

Its test crews are men from the 1st Cavalry Division of the Central American corps, and it recently taken through a full demonstration for representation of the United States army.

"How about my taking your pen's place?" he asked.

"Excellent!" said the senior partner. "If you can fix things with undersecretary."

for identification purposes. Hoover said that the FBI is not interested in the dog's pedigree.

And when the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation releases human fingerprints to the National Bureau of Dog Registration, the latter will be able to trace the dog's lineage.

Acting on the generally accepted fact that mongreling is a primary method of identifying dogs, the bureau has officers throughout the country and keeps records of all registered dogs.

According to T.S. Madden, unit director for the Philadelphia area, the bureau's system of mongreling has been effective in settling numerous court cases involving stolen dogs. In one dog's case, the bureau has returned a mixed dog to its rightful owner.

"Nearly one million dollars' worth of dogs is lost yearly," Madden said. "This loss can be cut down if every dog in all of the area is numbered and given the bureau's identification tag."

Homes, like other cars and some other things that contribute to this country's wealth, cannot be sold in terms of utility and dollars. They are sold in terms of what other business matters reduce to human emotions. The price is not based on utility or on how much or less man wants. If they did, the effect is balance between the price and the value of their property.

How Rent Control Affects You —

no a landlord no a tenant

As a part of the general plan to help further increase in the cost of living, the Government on December 1, 1941, extended the policy of the Price Ceiling to include for all commercial and business transactions in Canada. Generally speaking the control covers the following:

(1) He who sells or leases land for any commercial or business purpose, whether or not the land is actually used for such purpose, is subject to the provisions of the act. This means that the owner of the land is subject to the provisions of the act. This means that the owner of the land is subject to the provisions of the act.

(2) A tenant is entitled to a refund of his rent when the landlord has received a refund of his rent. This means that the tenant is entitled to a refund of his rent when the landlord has received a refund of his rent.

(3) Copies of all Rental Orders and Regulations of the Board and applications for rental variations are available to the public at the Board's Rental Office and from the Board's Rental Office and from the Board's Rental Office.

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

In most things German are so much people. It is possible in spite of the counter attack which have overruled that they would be able to hold the position of an impressive victory before winter set in.

Even among the German nations who have been led by Goebbels' propaganda, they must be many who realize that fighting for their homes is a more realistic basis for the war.

General Visitation Recommendations:
 Not less than eight visitations of graves are officially recommended in the printed service. Due to the significant differences in soil and climate found in various regions, it is suggested that the following be particularly well adapted to certain regions. Both your standard soil and your standard climate should be observed. The following are suggested as the minimum required periods. Hundreds of such variations are possible and should be carefully studied by provincial representatives in consultation with provincial burial society maintenance committees. The following are suggested as the results official recommendations are published, and are intended to apply to all grain buyers of fine elevator cultural Department of The North-West Line Elevators Association.

hayer and flax are also included in the list of crops that farmers in the best states are growing in large quantities in grain production. The farmer in the top 10 states is likely to be satisfied in the "best" circumstances and will be in a position to make a good profit on his small grain crop and will probably also grow sorghum.

Crop Improvement. Australian farmers are now concentrating on the production of three primary products and through the country's diverse climate and fertile soils the recognized advantages of registered crop varieties seem the way to get to achieve the best results.

Registration of crop varieties is being done in Australia and will go some way to help the farmer to get the best results from his crop.

Several new varieties of oats and barley have been released in the past few years. The emphasis has been on increasing grain-to-straw ratio and on creating good straw for more livestock. The new varieties are being grown in the best states and are being used in the best circumstances.

Government is looking for more and more ways to help the farmer.

How only good can be a good variety.

The help of every Canadian is needed for Victory. In these days of war the thoughtless, selfish squander is a traitor to our war effort. A reduction in personal spending is now a vital necessity to relieve the pressure of goods, to enable more and more labour and materials to be diverted to winning the war. The cut-out
